COMBINE MARKET OPPORTUNITY WITH TARGETED PRICE PROTECTION

Electricity prices can be volatile. Our hybrid plan protects you from this volatility by locking in your price for the most historically volatile months. For the remaining months, it lets your price follow market index rates, allowing you to benefit from the low prices that usually come with less volatile periods when usage is low. In short, it's a great way to protect your business from the worst pricing volatility while leaving room to pursue market opportunities.

BEST SUITED FOR COMPANIES THAT:

- Want to pursue market opportunity, but require some protection
- Can tolerate moderate budget fluctuations and overages
- Understand when market prices are most volatile
- Have a moderate understanding of power market movements
